SOMETHING A LITTLE DIFFERENT...

Years ago I spent time in India where I fell in love with Chai Tea.

My first thought was "This tastes like applesauce spice cake!"

The distinctive flavor of chai tea comes from a balance of bold black tea leaves, cinnamon, cardamom, ginger, cloves with a touch of honey.

Adding this to whole milk (we have almond, oat, coconut as well) creates it's creamy spicy flavor.

We now carry three blends:

Mild Chai - a good place to start from the Maya company.

Randy's Blend - always one of our favorites which we make in-house and sell in packages.

Spicy Chai - if you need a little kick to your beverages this one will do the trick - from the Maya company.

We are totally sold on our drip-brew coffee and espresso but give this a try if you want something a little different with slightly less caffeine!
